Winners and losers in budget consultations

GEMMA GARDNER

THE future of The Playhouse theatre, Harlow Youth Council and the town's paddling pools have been thrown into doubt after a consultation on next year's budget revealed they were the least popular among residents.

In July Harlow Council embarked on a twomonth public consultation on spending priorities as it plans for a future with less money.

as it plans for a future with less money.
Yesterday (Wednesday) it published the results of the survey but insisted it will not rush into any "short-term" decisions.

The survey included funding choices for services the council provides itself or pays for directly, including those discretionary services it is not legally obliged to offer as well as those it is required by law to provide.

Council leader Jon Clempner said: "This is the first time the council has run a consultation of this size on such an important issue. It reflects the desire to be open and transparent on the decisions we have to make.

"I would like to thank the many residents who took part and told us what their budget choices would be. We have some challenging decisions ahead of us. Having a picture of what services are the most important to the community will help with those decisions."

The majority of respondents said they wanted to see the level of council services stay the same.

The council scored each service based on the

The council scored each service based on the number of responses it had for ceasing, reducing, or increasing provision. The option to scrap statutory services was not available.

FLASHBACK: Star, July 3

Based on the scoring system, the discretionary services which received the highest scores were parks, playgrounds and green spaces, regeneration of the town and reducing anti-social behaviour.

Discretionary services which received the lowest scores were Harlow Youth Council, sports and leisure, The Playhouse, paddling pools and grants to the voluntary and charity sector.

One resident, when referring to The Playhouse which this year received £820,000 of council tax-payers' money, wrote: "Some groups presumably use the theatre because it is there . . . thei existence is not [dependent] upon the theatre building. If given an option, I would rather [lose] this tired looking building rather than lose the [benefits] the green space and parks bring to the town."

rather than lose the [benefits] the green space and parks bring to the town." Another wrote: "With respect to The Playhouse, it should have to operate in the same commercial field that others do and pay its way or cease trading. Why should taxpayers with no interest in the arts pay their taxes to benefit those who do?"

Other suggestions included introducing a small entrance fee for Pets' Corner, charging to use the paddling pools and reducing councillors' allowances.

The statutory services which received the highest scores were road and pavement repairs, street cleaning and meeting housing need while local council tax support, planning, licensing and the administration of revenues and benefits scored the lowest.

The results were compiled from 489 completed surveys sent to 2,000 randomly selected home, giving a statistically reliable sample of households in Harlow. A further 540 surveys were completed online and on paper by other residents or groups who wanted to have their say. Half of those who responded to the household

Work starts on repairs to pipes

REPAIR work on leaking pipes which left elderly people living in sheltered accomodation without heating or hot water for six weeks finally got under way this week.
Last week the Star reported how residents at Latton House in Harlow said there had on-going problems since the beginning of the year and felt their complaints were being ignored.

On Monday workers from Kier Harlow turned up to start repairing the underground pipes and to deliver heaters to residents so that they can keep warm while the work is carried

Sheila Newman, 68, said: "They turned up like they said they would to start the repairs and brought 12 heaters for us to distribute which we have done It's great news; I think the Star's story got them in gear."

The work is expected to take about five weeks to complete.

Family of murder victim raise £550

THE family and friends of Claire Parrish, the mother-of four who was murdered by her former partner two years ago, have raised more than £550 for Safer Places. They held a 'night in' fundraiser for the organisation which supports victims of domestic violence.

Ms Parrish's sister Kasey said: "We are overwhelmed at the generosity of everyone that made it so successful. We hope the money raised will prevent at least one family from suffering the unbearable heartache mine

"We want to thank everyone that donated raffle prizes, especially Head to Head barbers and Mark and Adam from the Heart and Club pub for their donations to the raffle."

Wedding woes for couples hit by hotel closure

Churchgate Hotel in Old Harlow have refused to confirm rumours that it will close next week.

People with bookings say they have been told the Churchgate Street hotel will close nextThursday. The hotel's website is also not taking bookings for rooms after this date.

A manager refused to confirm or deny the rumours when the Star called yesterday (Wednesday).

A spokesman for Deloitte, representing the administrators for the seller, said: "As contract negotiations are ongoing, we are not in a position to comment on any potential closure. In the event that hotel does close, all monies paid in relation to any existing bookings will be refunded." One hotel which has received calls from a number of brides is offering to help those affected by the news. Hunters Meet Hotel in Hatfield Heath is offering dis-counts to any affected wedding bookings and have promised to do all they can to help people with their big day.

"We will put ourselves out to help brides - there is lots we can and will do," a spokesman said.

survey felt that Harlow Council's share of council tax should stay the same, while 16 per cent would agree to an increase. However, a third - 34 per cent – favoured a cut.

Thirty-nine per cent of respondents in the 'open' survey felt the council's share of council tax should stay the same and 39 per centwould agree to an increase, with the remainder favouring a decrease.

Residents were also asked for their views on services that the council does not currently provide and almost 400 suggestions were received. The issue that topped this list was street lighting, currently provided by Essex County Council, followed by garden waste collec-tions and the provision of youth Cllr Clempner added: "Now the results are published I'd like the community to provide feedback and comments.

"I want to be clear that no decisions on the future of any service have yet been made, and we will not rush into short-term decisions.

"I welcome the fact that residents share my view that they want to see a positive, visible difference to Harlow in areas such as parks, playgrounds and open spaces, and in street cleaning. "While progress has already been made in this area, we will certainly be taking into account these views when setting next year's budget."

Conservative group leader Andrew

"It's a really good place for further conversations to take place. I hope it doesn't mean things will just shut," he said

Since 2011 the amount of money the council receives from the Government - which funds 46 per cent of services - has been cut by almost 50 per cent. This is expected to continue with an expected further reduction of 16 per cent in 2015/16 and 10 per cent in 2016/17.

Staff are working hard on projects to improve town

SIR Whilst I'm not surprised by Mike Carr's bile-enriched letter about Harlow Council's budget consultations (Star, September 4), I do want to challenge his negative perception of the hard-working staff of the council and especially the regeneration

We know his simple solution is to become Dr Who and time travel back to the 1950s to solve the problems of today's new growing and changing town.

In the same edition of the Star in which his rant appeared there were three articles that show we as a town are developing, growing and enhancing services - the new rugby club and housing development, the consultation for the regeneration of The Stow and the upgrade of the tennis courts.

He must hate walking past the new homes and Spar shop at Clifton Hatch as well as the newly planned council houses due to commence this year. I could also mention many other new and successful developments including the Enterprise

Zone. None of these projects would have left the drawing board without the skills, knowledge, expertise and leadership of the hard-working staff at Harlow Council. They enable us to achieve our collective priorities.

I fully accept and respect that Mike will carry on challenging both the politics and politicians over decisions, What I won't accept is cheap shots at staff.

I accept some projects have caused

I accept some projects have caused massive time delays and challenges but we are determined to make them happen for the long-term benefit of the local community and the town.

So let's be proud of what we have achieved collectively and let's respect the work of those who quietly get on to make a true and lasting difference to our town. Clir Tony Durcan (Labour) Rundells, Harlow

Shared access route is a satisfactory arrangement

Satisfactory arrangements are to walk on so why not use them?", Latton Common Road, because of its relationship with Latton Common, has traditionally been a shared access route.

This is a perfectly satisfactory arrangement provided that drivers and

It would be helpful to drivers if pedestrians would remember that when cars are approaching and where there is no convenient footpath, to walk on the right-hand side of the road in keeping with the Highway Code.

I work full time and I have a six-year-old daughter. We chose our house in Tithelands because we liked the playing field and children's playground located at the bottom of our garden.

One Sunday back in June I was playing a ball game with my child on the field. She threw the ball which rolled towards where a threw the ball which folied towards where group of travellers had set up camp. As I went to retrieve it a large dog ran up to me and bit my forearm, causing bleeding and an injury approximately 4.5 inches long. I was obviously in shock so went home to clean the wound.

The next day I attended my GP surgery and was given a terapus hooser injection.

and was given a tetanus booster injection and a week's worth of antibiotics. My GP advised me to report the incident to the police which I did and was told officers would come to take a statement within 24

After three days of waiting I decided to email a picture of my injury, along with my concerns that if the dog had attacked a child the injury sustained could potentially be life-changing. The response I received was that it was not possible to get officers to attend every incident within 24 hours. Five days after the incident I was asked to attend the police station to make a statement which I did.

I then received an email from the police officer who had taken my statement stating, incorrectly, the animal was caged and therefore not cangerously out of control. It went on to inform me that it is considered a normal animal reaction to bite something that enters its territory. I was gobsmaked; did this officer really not listen to a word I did this officer really not listen to a word I was saying or was this a deliberate attempt not to act on the information provided?

I was outraged that I had taken the time to report this incident in an attempt to prevent a child being hurt and the police were not interested. After a meeting with the Chief Inspector and numerous email exchanges, it has now been recognised that this incident was not dealt with appropriately and will now be investigated.

This particular group of travellers have now moved on but as I write they have been replaced by another group. I haven't spotted any dogs as yet but the rubbish they dump is unhygienic and its council tax payers who will end up picking up the bill for the clean up job.

I would urge all residents of Harlow to share their experiences to support the council in gaining a suitable resolution to the problem the problem. A report in the Star stated that these travellers are only in Harlow because they have been refused planning permission to develop a site in Epping. We all have to abide by building regulations and I am sure there are many readers who have jumped through hoops to get extensions etc accepted. However, we have not yet resorted to parking a caravan on a public field.

Alex Gardner Tithelands, Harlow

The least travellers can do is to clear up after them

SIR I think most people object to travellers who, after setting up camp, leave the cost of clearing up after them to the council.

When you consider they don't pay for things most people have to pay for - council tax, television licenses and water rates - and you see them driving top of the range cars which possibly we could afford if we didn't have to pay all the usual taxes, the least they could do is make the effort to keep their site

It's still our national flag so let us fly it with pride

SIR I am amazed that an obviously intelligent man like Robert Johnson should continue to miss the point regarding our national flag (Letters, September 4). If he took his preferred flag of a red dragon on a white background on a tour of the civilized world it's a fair bet that 99 per cent civilized world it's a fair bet that 99 per cent of people would not recognise it. It is an equally fair bet that if he did the same with the Cross of St George 99 per cent of people would identify it as the flag of England.

The simple reason for this is that, right now in 2014, it is the flag of England and no amount of historical heraldic research is going to change that. There is not a person alive on the planet today that can remember a time when it wasn't our flag.

alive on the planet today that can remember a time when it wasn't our flag. So please Mr Johnson, join us in 2014. I realise that you have some issues with the Cross of St George but please allow those of us who are proud to be English to have our national flag flown in our English town, preferably instead of the French flag, the Czech Republic flag or the hated EU flag or, at the very least, alongside these foreign banners.

My thanks to two of the kindest people I have met SIR. In the early hours of Saturday, August 16 I had to call an ambulance, thinking my 22-year-old partner was having a heart attack. The two paramedics in the ambulance who attended were unbelievably kind, supportive and reassuring.

Kind, supportive and reassuring.

They tended to him, reassuring him and calming him down so much. They were two of the kindest, loveliest people I have ever had the pleasure of meeting and we are so grateful for the care they provided.

I really feel they should both be praised for the service they provided. Never have I met two such wonderful people as them.

The students will also be subject to rigorous assessment of their projects with representatives from the sponsors and linked companies sitting in.

"I'm expecting to see young-sters and adults that grow and flourish with the unique experiences we will give them."

As well as classrooms and seminar rooms, facilities at the UTC include computer aided design studios, a light engineering and manufacturing centre, a computer science and electronocis centre, science laboratories and a large demonstra-tion hall.

The delay in construction work was caused when one of the sub-contractors responsible for the mechanical and electrical aspects of the building went into administration over the summer. However, it is expected it will be ready by the beginning of December.

Until then, staff and students will be spending the autumn term working in a separate building on the Harlow College campus.

"I've been overwhelmed by the support of the parents, the sponsors, the local college and local people in general," said Mr McKeaveney. "It's been a long time coming and a lot of work has gone into the project. It's good to see it come to life."

Reprieve for Meals on Wheels

THE Meals on Wheels service subsidised by Essex County Council has been saved. The future of the service was called into doubt as the numbers of users decreased and County Hall looked at ways to make savings. But the council l found that people who use the service did not want to lose it and believed that "a full removal of the subsidy would result in the service being unaffordable".

Following the feedback, it has chosen not remove the subsidy Instead the cost of meals will be increased by 25p to £4.20.

County Councillor Anne Brown, cabinet member with responsibility for adult social care, said: "I am delighted that we have been able to protect this service, allowing older residents across the county to have access to an affordable hot meal."

Council clamps down on parking outside garages

BIANCA CASTRO

HARLOW Council is clamping down on drivers who park outside their garages on one estate.

One resident, Roy Adams, of Kingsland, has rented his garage for 18 years and branded the new rules "ludicrous". Mr Adams, 65, received a letter from the council which said he was "not at liberty to park in a garage/hardstand area" and warned anyone parking outside could be at risk of being clamped.

Science hub likely to create 700 new jobs

HUNDREDS of jobs would be created if Public Health England moves its national science hub from Wiltshire

Speaking about the proposed move during a debate at Westminster Hall on Thursday, Harlow MP Robert Halfon said: "Public Health England's move to Harlow would give the town a much-needed boost with an estimated 700 jobs created initially."

PHE announced in July that it would recommend moving the science hub programme from its current base in Porton Down near Salibury to the New Frontiers Science Park in Harlow.

Under the recommendation the programme's support services as well PHE's headquarters will be moved to Harlow while maintaining a central London base.

Mr Halfon, who has campaigned for the move by holding meetings with Government ministers as

Abuse victims 'suffer in silence

OLDER victims of domestic abuse in Essex were the focus of a conference attended by county police and crime commissioner Nick Alston on

The seminar, hosted by the charity Safer Places which supports adults and children affected by domestic and sexual abuse in West Essex, highlighted the growing number of domestic abuse victims over the age of 50 and ways to improve the services available to them.

It was attended by police, social workers, health professionals, care agencies, women's aid groups and support organisations for the elderly.

In his speech, Mr Alston said:

"Abuse involving older victims is an area that can easily be overlooked and we need to work out how we reach those we may not be reaching

Janet Dalrymple, of Safer Places, said a quarter of older victims were abused by their adult children.

"For many, their abuser, whether their partner or child, has mental health, substance misuse or physical health problems," she said. "For many the shame and strong belief that these things should be kept private, as well as fear about what will happen if they do report what is happening to them, means they suffer in silence."

He also pointed out that the move was a good one for the taxpayer as it is estimated that it would save the public purse more than £100bn over a 60-year period.

Fundraising friends' charity mile swim

TWO friends did not let a last-minute change of plans stop them from completing their sponsored swim for the Batten Disease Family Association.

Angela Gray, 53, of Little Brays, Harlow, and Julie Hartnell, 55, who lives in Southend signed up to swim a mile in the River Thames but were told the event was cancelled the day before due to the condition of the water.

"I've never done anything like that before, but we wanted to do something different for a good cause."

The pair decided to raise funds for Batten Disease Family Association as Julie knew someone affected by the disease, a rare, progressive genetic illness that as no specific treatment to date.

Mum praises all-inclusive centre

A MOTHER whose disabled son attends the Essex Cares hub in Harlow has said how much happier he is as a result.

Donny Napodano, 22, needs round-the-clock care and attends The Hub@Harlow - a wellbeing and activity centre, in Pyenest Road - every day. His mother Rafaela, 50, said he loves the time he spends

"Donny started in February and he does lots of different things here," said Ms Napodano, 50, of Nazeing. "He plays with the Wii Fit, he does exercises in his chair, he does cooking and art and painting and he spends time in the sensory room. He does so much there and it means a lot.

"He is very happy and it makes me happy to see him going somewhere where he can take part in a lot of different things.

"The staff here are brilliant and talk to me about everything that's been happening and I can talk to them. It's great."

Donny has severe learning disabilities. He uses a wheelchair

Former roofer jumps at the opportunity to retrain as chef

A RESTAURANT in Harlow is giving the unemployed the opportunity to carve out a new career by teaming up with employment provider Ingeus.

The Toby Carvery, at Edinburgh Gate, has helped former roofer James Rafferty retrain as a chef after he moved back to the town from Kent and struggled to find

Mr Rafferty, 47, said: "I was very despondent. Living temporarily with friends and family meant I didn't even have a secure home address to offer potential employers.

"Ingeus gave me lots of practical help like access to the internet and a phone and helping me look for vacancies. I've done some catering work before so when Ingeus suggested Toby Carvery I jumped at the chance." Mr Rafferty started off assisting in the kitchen and is now a trainee chef.

Restaurant manager Chris Lennox said: "James is proof that having the right work ethic and pride in what you do outweighs direct experience.

"We can teach the skills involved in the job but James' initiative and attitude is what's got him so far.
"His promotion has opened up a kitchen assistant vacancy again so we've gone back to Ingeus to recruit."

Crisis looming as charity struggles to cope with stray cats

THE growing number of abandoned and stray cats and kittens in Harlow is reaching crisis levels and threatens to overwhelm the local RSPCA branch, the charity warned this week.

The problem is so serious that

Euro MP and former Harlow Council leader Richard Howitt, who is also a vice president of the RSPCA, visited its advice centre at The Stow on Friday to raise awareness of the situation.

The increase in abandoned cats is putting pressure on local resources and the Stort Valley branch now has a seven-month waiting list to take in animals that owners say they can no longer keep.

It currently has 20 abandoned kittens and 45 adult cats who are waiting to be rehomed. National figures from the RSPCA reveal a 14 per cent increase in the number of cats abandoned this year compared to 2013. Mr Howitt said: "The cute rescued kittens I've been shown need loving an end we often find we have many weak mothering cats who are sometimes on their second or even third litter of kittens.

'The kittens can become very sick and often do not survive. It can be heartbreaking for animal shelter staff to see so much suffering.

"The RSPCA would encourage any member of the public who takes on a kitten to have them neu-tered at four months to reduce the risk of any unwanted litters being born. It is the responsibility of any animal owner to ensure they have considered the cost and all other aspects relating to kittens' care before commit-

Teen shouted death threats at police and pub manager

Bishop steps forward to mark diocese centenary

THE Bishop of Chelmsford set off from Harlow on Friday for a 14-mile walk to Epping to mark the centenary of the diocese.

Along the way the Rt Rev Stephen Cottrell stopped off at St Giles Church in Nazeing and was he guest at a community lunch.
The parish of St Giles is celebrating its 50th anniversary and the Bishop's visit occurred on the feast day of St Giles.

"It was a marvellous day," said St Giles minister Helen Gheorghiu Gould. "We didn't have just people from the church, we had people from a range of local organisations. It was a real joy to get people together as a community."

The walk, which started from the Potters Arms at Church Langley, was the seventh of 10 missionary journeys which Bishop Stephen is undertaking around the diocese.

A DRUNKEN teenager began shouting death threats at the bar manager of a Harlow pub before spitting at a police officer, a court

The 15-year-old, who cannot be identified for legal reasons, was made the subject of a nine programme aimed at keeping him out of further trouble.

The youth, from Roydon, admitted two offences of criminal damage, two offences of assault and one of threatening behaviour.

Chelmsford Youth Court was told that he damaged 10 beer glasses belonging to the pub, caused damage to a police car, assaulted bar manager Daniel Kelly and a police officer and threatened to kill both.

Angela Mahadeo, prosecuting, said police went to the William Aylmer pub in Harlow town centre on August 18 after receiving a report of a disturbance. Police arrived and saw the boy throw a pint glass at Mr Kelly, causing several cuts on his forearm.

"He was then seen running towards the exit still throwing glasses at the manager and one at police, smashing into a door frame," said Miss Mahadeo.

She said he was shouting "I'll fing get him, I'll kill him," and then yelled at police officers: "I'll kill you when you're off duty."

After he was arrested he headbutted the window of the police car and continued making death threats to the officers. While he was being taken into custody he spat directly at one police officer.
His lawyer, Lauren Bond, told the court it was the first time he had gone drinking and he did not know the affect it would have on him.

She said: "He's deeply sorry; he can recall very little. He was intoxicated for the first time. After being allowed to go into the bar he became completely intoxicated.

"He didn't realise how it would affect him but he has got no excuse, he knows it's not accept-

The youth was ordered to pay £75 compensation to the bar manager, £50 to the police officer in whose direction he spat and £40

Complaints down by a third and more compliments for county's ambulance service

COMPLAINTS about the East of England Ambulance Service have fallen by a third while the number of compliments has risen.

Figures released by the Health and Social Care Information Centre show the trust received 798 complaints in 2013-14 compared to 1,177 during the previous 12 months.

Over the same period there were 1,389 compliments praising the service and its staff, an increase of almost 200.

EEAST handled more than 912,000 emergency calls and 774,000 non-emergency patient trans port journeys in 2014-15.

Chief executive Dr Anthony Marsh said: "We have been working hard to improve our service to patients and this is another encouraging sign that things are getting better.

"As we recruit hundreds of new frontline staff, as well as upskill our existing staff, the service and response to patients will continue to improve."

Day the world's biggest airship flew over town

IVING so close to Stansted Airport means that Harlow residents are used to seeing planes in the sky, but 84 years ago the world's biggest airship flew over the town.

The R101, which was 777 feet long (236m), only flew twice. On its second flight it crashed over France where it lay as a wreck well into 1931 before being salvaged.

However, it's maiden flight was a success and the R101 flew right over Harlow.

"She said that her mum took the photo. She remembered that it came over on a weekday and her dad would have been at work." It was Mr Betteridge's grandmother - Doris Page, 92, who still lives in Harlow with husband Bert, 97, - who fuelled his interest in local history.

"I developed an interest in the history of Harlow from an early age by the stories she would tell me about life in the villages that are now the new town," he said. >> Do you remember the R101 passing over Harlow or do you have any photos from the time? If so, contact Nostalgia on (01279) 400577, email star@hertsessexnews.co.uk, or write to 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW.

What to do if you think you've been mis-sold PPI

THE mis-selling of payment protection insurance - or PPI - on loans, credit cards, hire purchase agreements, mortgages or other credit repayments has resulted in significant damage to the reputation of financial institutions.

Late last month the Financial Conduct Authority ordered banks and other lenders to re-open more than 2.5 million complaints about PPI that were rejected or paid too little in compensation.
You may have been a victim of PPI

mis-selling if one of the following applies:

- » you were pressured into taking PPI;
- you were not advised that it was optional;
- you were advised to take cover that was not suitable for you;

 you thought PPI was a condition or would increase your chances of getting credit;
- significant exclusions were not explained such as being selfemployed or pre-existing medical conditions;

Harlow Advice Centre

Harlow Advice Centre is based on the first floor of Harlow Central Library in The High. Telephone (01279) 704002 or email admin@harlowac.org.uk. Opening hours are Monday noon-2pm and Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 10am-2pm. Out of hours appointments are available if necessary.

- >> the PPI was added without your knowledge;
 >> you were not advised that you
- would pay interest on the cost of PPI if it was added to the loan; >> it was not made clear that PPI cover would end before the loan
- or credit was repaid. These are just some examples; you may have been mis-sold PPI for other reasons.
- Guidance about how to claim and standard letters and claim forms can be found on several websites including www.financial-ombudsman.org.uk and www. moneysavingexpert.com.

If you do not have access to the internet at home you can get free access at your local library.

You may have received telephone calls from claims companies offering to make a claim for you. The charges can be 30 per cent of the total compensation paid.

In most cases it makes sense to make the claim yourself as compensation can be several thousand pounds in some cases. The Money Saving Expert website at www.moneysavingexpert.com contains a very useful 'should I use a claims handler' checker.

If the answer is yes, you should read the 'what to look out for when choosing a claims handler' checklist.

We can send hard conies of information if you can't get access to the internet. We only take PPI cases on in very limited circumstances because most of our time is spent on other types of specialist money advice casework. Harlow Advice Centre's services are free of charge.

Award presentation a proud day for Scouts

THE Scouting movement in Harlow was this week presented with the Queen's Award for

The Lord Lieutenant of Essex handed the award to district commissioner Ann Nutt during a ceremony held at Harlow Civic Centre on Monday.

The award was announced earlier this year as part of the Queen's Birthday Honours. Harlow District Scouts are the only group in the country to have received the honour.

Among those present at the ceremony were Harlow Council chairman Ian Beckett, Essex County Council chairman Norman Hume and representatives of the Harlow Health Centres Trust and Roydon Parish Council.

Ms Nutt said the award was down to "the hard work of everyone involved in Scouting". She said: "This award is the recognition that Scouts go over and beyond what is expected and it is thanks to all those involved, from parents and the executive committee to our husbands and wives and partners."

The Lord Lieutenant,

Lord Petre, read out an official statement from Buckingham Palace and said he was both delighted to present the award to the Scouts.

"It is a very prestigious award," he said. "It is an award for the entire group and the only award that the whole of Essex received in this year's birthday honours.

Beautician reaches final of magazine's The Body competition

A BEAUTICIAN from Harlow has been named as one of five finalists in Women's Health magazine's 'The Body 2014' competition.

Stevie Hartley, 22, suffered from postnatal depression before finding strength

"Thankfully, I have a supportive family who helped me get the support I needed but I knew long-term I needed to take charge of my own health."

Stevie soon found strength, both physical and mental, through exercising. "I wanted to pull myself out of the hole, so when I saw an advert for the Insanity workout DVDs, I phoned up immediately.

"At first it was so hard. After each session my muscles were burning but I started seeing results within two weeks.

"Exercise is a vital part of my life now. I'd be in a much darker place without it."

The Body 2014 competition is judged by Women's Health editor Farrah Storr, Olympic champion cyclist Victoria Pendleton, dancer Kimberly Wyatt and fitness model Nathalie Schyllert.
Farrah Storr said:

the number and the quality of the entries

Local policing is key to shake-up

They will work from local stations and operate on a 24/7 basis. It will mean 500 officers will work under the direct control of local police commanders

Fastest dog on two legs

IF you were asked what breed of dog was the fastest you may well answer a greyhound or whippet.

But meet Jiff, a petite Pomeranian who has just set two world records for running on his front legs and on his back egs.

Jiff can run a distance of 10 metres on his hind legs in a time of 6.56 seconds and five metres on his front paws in 7.76 seconds. Craig Glenday, editor-in-first walked into our offices we weren't even sure he was real.

Craig Glenday, editor-inchief of Guinness World Records, said: "When Jiff

"He looks like a living, breathing cuddly toy. He might be toy-sized but he's got a huge personality and he certainly deserves his place in the new Guinness World Records book."

In addition to his talent for two-legged running, he is also able to shake hands, bow, ride a skateboard and even stamp his own autograph.

He has also appeared in several television advertisements and taken a starring role in a Katy Perry music video.

Playhouse to host a world premiere

ROSS WILDISH

THE world premiere of a new production of the hit musical . Copacabana will be playing at the Harlow Playhouse next month.

Packed with original songs, dazzling costumes and dynamic choreography, this new production is described as a 're-imagining' of the original stage version of the musical which was first performed in the US in 1991.

Based on the Barry Manilow track of the same name, Copacabana tells the story of showgirl Lola, aspiring songwriter Tony and their uneasy journey to get into show business.

The show features original songs by Manilow such as Dancin' Fool. Who Needs To Dream. Ave Caramba as well as the Grammy Award-winning title track of the show.

There have been over 200 productions of the show and it has entertained audiences worldwide.

Starring in the role of Tony is former S Club 7 singer Jon Lee, pictured right, who also appeared in stage productions of Aladdin, Les Misérables and Love Shack.

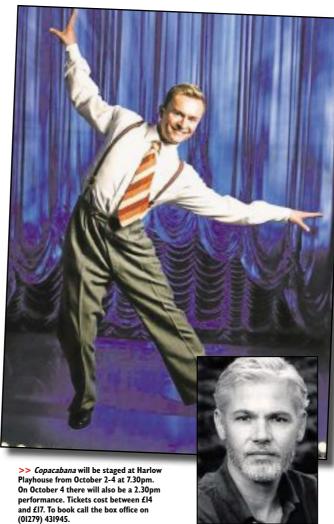

Richard Grieve, pictured below right, of Neighbours, Home and Away and Emmerdale fame, will star as Sam Silver, manager of the Cococabana.

Canadian vocalist Jennifer Harding will be taking the role of Lola.

Manilow said: "I am honoured that *Copacaban*a will return to the UK stage and send my wishes for success to Jon, Richard and the entire company.

Manilow released the song Copacabana in 1978 and in 1985, his collaborated with Bruce Sussman and Jack Feldman to expanded the song into a full length, made-fortelevision musical.

A film version was then further expanded into a full-length stage

MUSIC Back in the early 1970s, folk group Lindisfarne achieved chart success with several hits including Lady Eleanor, Meet Me On The Corner, Fog on the Tyne and Run For Home.
Two years ago drummer and founder member Ray Laidlaw and front man Billy Mitchell were invited by their local theatre to perform those songs and recount their experiences in the band. The reaction to that and the handful of subsequent 'Lindisfarne story' gigs was so positive that the duo are now embarking on a nationwide tour that will include a performance in Harlow on Sunday. Billy and Ray will be telling the story of Tyneside's favourite band in a special two-man acoustic show, performing all the hits and illustrating them with tales, personal archive photographs and video to give an insider's view of their worldwide tours, festival successes and TV appearances. The show starts at 7.30m and tickets cost £19.50

System for subtitles will be music to the ears

AN inventor has been working with Harlow Playhouse to improve the theatre experience for those with impaired to members of the audience who choose to wear special lightweight glasses.

"The whole point of our system is it's not intrusive to the hearing audience, but if you put the glasses on you will clearly see the subtitles," he said.

The system will be piloted during the forthcoming production of the Barry Manilow musical Copacabana.

Mr Ezra has received positive feedback from the innovative subtitle system and believes it will open up musical theatre to the deaf and hard-of-hearing.

"Previously families with deaf people haven't been able to enjoy these live experiences together," said Mr Ezra. "With the addition of subtitles, the deaf and hard-of-hearing can understand what is going on and actually enjoy

3D Experience recently received backing from entrepreneur George Georgiou to further develop an off-screen cinema subtitle system which could be used in

Give the garden a spring boost with new bulbs end of summer and provides a wake-up call to start planting some spring bulbs to brighten up borders and patios next year.

Yet the wealth of varieties on offer, from crocus and dwarf narcissi to fragrant hyacinths and majestic tulips, can leave many gardeners wondering what to choose.

Suppliers are constantly trying to help customers select the best combinations. Suttons (www.suttons co.uk), for instance, has a range called 'Plant-O-Mat' - pre-planted bulbs inserted in individual compartments in a biodegradable tray. You just dig a hole, put the tray in and cover it with compost. The range features a number of combinations, colours and sizes and they also cater for window boxes and containers

If you want something different which is going to stand the test of time, Gardening Which? has recently trialled a number of new bulbs to see how they fared. Researchers found that some new varieties will flower more consistently and for much longer than many older varieties.

Last autumn, triallists chose 50 new varieties of spring-flowering bulbs and grew them alongside five well-known varieties - daffodils 'Delnashaugh' and 'Dutch Master', and tulips 'Ballerina', 'Mount Tacoma' and 'Red Riding Hood' - for comparison.

Bulbs were planted in October: hyacinths 15cm deep, narcissus twice their own depth and tulips at three times their own depth. In spring the bulbs development was monitored - when they flowered how long they lasted and their sizes, colours and

In the latest batch of testing, researchers noticed a lot of colour-changing varieties (such as tulip 'Caribbean Parrot') with flowers that open in one colour then change to another as they age, adding a new element of interest.

New daffodils which came out on top included 'Ferris Wheel', a large bright yellow variety which grows to 40cm and produces immense trumpets with a frilly rim, flowering in April for around three weeks

A more subtle variety whose flowering period lasted up to 32 days was 'Beautiful Eyes' which has small, straight stems holding clusters of two or three creamy flowers with yellow centres and gives off a heady fragrance.

Tulips recommended included 'Mistress Mystic' - a pink goblet-shaped flower which grows to 60cm and looks ideal in the middle of a border - and the zingy 'Caribbean Parrot' which lasted much longer than any other parrot-type tulip in the trial and looked wonderful in a pot. Its most impressive feature, though, was its colour-changing flowers which started mainly yellow, but deepened as they aged, until eventually they were almost completely red.

Among the top-performing hyacinths was 'Pink Angel', whose brightly coloured flower spikes were much larger and better formed than any of the other varieties, with a fantastically potent scent. Unlike the other hyacinths grown in the test, they managed to stay bolt upright throughout the trial - something that is essential if you're going to use them in the garden, although they looked good in pots too.

What to do in the garden this week

- :: Bring in house plants that have been standing outdoors in the summer, before they succumb to
- :: Plant daffodil bulbs, which begin their root growth earlier than most
- :: Plant out spring-flowering biennials including wallflowers and forget-me-nots in their flowering
- :: Store apples and pears for use over the winter.
- :: Continue to pick sweet peas to encourage further flowers.
- :: Plant dwarf bulbs such as crocus in lawns and grassy banks and scillas and chionodoxas in pots.
- :: Protect the ripening fruit of plums and cherries from birds and squirrels. Pick the fruit as it becomes ripe but watch out for wasps when picking.
- :: Visit dahlia shows to identify new varieties you'd like to grow.
- :: Lift and divide five-year-old clumps of perennial herbs such as bergamot and lemon balm, discarding the old woody centres and replanting in
- :: Reduce watering orchids indoors as growth slows down and apply the last feed. From the end of September until next April no feeding is

With a new cookery book -Best Ever

With a new cookery book - Best Ever Dishes - and an accompanying television series, a bustling pub in Marlow and even an imposter pretending to be him on Twitter - it's fair to say that Kerridge is having a bit of a moment right now. But after a massive 40th birthday clabs the public has been seen to be seen to celebration which the jolly chef jokes he's "still suffering from", just a pint of diet Coke will do.

'I've knocked the booze on the head

"I've knocked the booze on the head and thought I'd have a clean year," he says in his distinctive burr. "So far we're doing alright. I haven't fallen off the wagon yet." Giving up alcohol is just one thing that has changed in Kerridge's life since his first solo cookery series, Proper Pub Food, was aired last year. For starters he's lost six stone, partially through the abstinence and partially though the purple of partially through swimming. Then there's the teeming mass of fans he's gained through his TV series, book and Michelin star pub

All this could go to a man's head but Kerridge says he is still the same bloke he's always been. Indeed, before the cameras started to roll on his first series, he insisted that he remained himself and "not a cartoon character" on screen.

That people like the real him is a "huge compliment" and, luckily, he likes them too.

RIDE (15, 120mins)

Matthew Warchus, who succeeds Kevin Spacey as artistic director of the Old Vic next year, directs this barnstorming culture-clash comedy drama based on the true story of a group of gays and lesbians who supported the miners during the 1984 strike and raised thousands of pounds for beleaguered communities which dared to stand up to the Thatcher government. Mark Ashton (Ben Schnetzer) is the charismatic and outspoken leader of young, impassioned campaigners who operate out of the Gay's The Word bookshop in London run by Gethin (Andrew Scott)

Reading news stories about the miner's strike, Mark recognises a cause to champion. "Mining communities are being bullied just like we are," he tells his coterie comprising Mike (Joseph Gilgun), Jonathan (Dominic West), Jeff (Freddie Fox), Steph (Faye Marsay) and closeted new boy Joe (George MacKay)

They form LGSM - Lesbians and Gays Support the Miners - and rattle tins for a randomly selected Welsh community. Mining representative Dai (Paddy Considine) invites Mark and co to the Dulais Valley where committee members Hefina (Imelda Staunton), Cliff (Bill Nighy) and Sian (Jessica Gunning) embrace the fundraisers with open arms. However, some of the locals are repulsed.

"We're being backed up by perverts," sneers homophobic mother Maureen (Lisa Palfrey), kindling conflict between some of the neighbours and the LGSM.

Pride embraces and subverts stereotypes, deftly weaving together stories of personal triumph and anguish as the spectre of Aids

Rom-com delivers laughter and tears casts a long shadow over the gay community.

This uplifting story of solidarity in the face of adversity and police intimidation is an absolute joy, an unabashed, irresistible crowdpleaser in the magnificent mould of

The Full Monty and Billy Elliot that rouses the audience to bellowing laughter while choking back a deluge of hot, salty tears.

Performances are exemplary including a fiery turn from Schnetzer as a fresh-faced trailblazer and sobs aplenty from Mackay as the catering student who cannot conceal his sexuality forever.

OXTROLLS (PG, 97mins)

Based on the novel Here Be Monsters! by Alan Snow, The Boxtrolls is a rollicking stop-motion animated romp that proves weird can be truly wonderful.

With faint echoes of Raymond Briggs' Fungus The Bogeyman, this quirky fantasy imagines a race of subterranean creatures called Boxtrolls who root through bins in search of spare parts for their mechanical creations.

The well-to-do Victorian-era city of Cheesebridge is visited under the cloak of darkness by the eponymous beasties. One dark night a Boxtroll called Fish (voiced by Dee Bradley Baker) kidnaps the infant son of a local inventor (Simon Pegg) and spirits away the child to the underground lair.

This shocking act plays into the grubby hands of pest exterminator Archibald Snatcher (Sir Ben Kingsley) who strikes fear in the heart of Lord Portley-Rind (Jared Harris) and the other fromage-fixated noblemen.

They grant Snatcher a place at the cheese-tasting top table if the exterminator and his henchmen -Mr Trout (Nick Frost), Mr Pickles (Richard Ayoade) and Mr Gristle (Tracy Morgan) - kill every last Boxtroll Unaware that he is human, abducted boy Eggs (Isaac Hempstead-Wright) ventures above ground with the Boxtrolls and encounters Lord Portley-Rind's snooty daughter, Winnie (Elle Fanning).

She initially believes the horror stories about Boxtrolls devouring children but once she learns the truth about Eggs' past she agrees to help vanquish Snatcher and his snivelling cohorts.

German intelligence operative Gunther Bachmann (the late Phillip Seymour Hoffman) hopes to identify and break up terrorist cells by extracting information from the local Muslim community.

He believes but cannot prove that philanthropist Dr Abdullah (Homayoun Ershadi) is channelling funds to one such cell and would dearly love to put this supposed pillar of society behind bars.

The surveillance operation on Abdullah becomes complicated when Chechen refugee Issa Karpov (Grigoriy Dobrygin) enters Hamburg illegally and is identified as a terrorist by Russian intelligence.

Bachmann and his team exert pressure on immigration lawyer Annabel Richter (Rachel McAdams) and Karpov's family banker Tommy Brue (Willem Dafoe) to ensnare Karpov in their trap and also implicate Abdullah.

However, the plan doesn't unfold as planned, putting Bachmann squarely in the firing line.

Based on the 2008 novel of the same name by John Le Carre, this espionage thriller features the final performance of Hoffman in a leading role.

EVERYWHERE I look at the moment there seem to be builders. Skips outside of houses, scaffolding going up and old structures coming down.

It looks like there has been a sudden rush of home improvements. Whether this is to get things done before more inclement weather sets in or home owners are feeling a little wealthier I couldn't say.

According to new research from Lloyds Bank, as a nation we're obsessed with making changes to our homes. Some 44 per cent of us have either completed some significant home improvements or are planning to do so shortly.

Common reasons cited for Common reasons cited for these projects are to change the use of a room (32 per cent) and to add value (33 per cent). The fact that changing a room's function is unlikely to add any value (a fact recognised by 40 per cent of those interviewed) didn't seem to interviewed) didn't seem to

In fact, 17 per cent believed that in doing so, they had added £10,000-£25,000 and a highly optimistic 10 per cent were under the impression they had added between £25,000-£50,000! Actually, sacrificing a bedroom can just as easily reduce the value of a property.

Apparently 25 per cent of us buy properties with the intention of adding value either by updating or extending them. Some 29 per cent of home improvers estimate that, as the result of the work they'd carried out, the property was worth between £10,000 to £25,000 more. Not a bad return when the average home improvement project costs just £4,000.

However we have a tendency to over-estimate the value we add, especially if the work is not of the right quality. Around 10 per cent of projects go wrong, landing us with a bill typically as high as £3,200.

Of course, no one wanted to take responsibility. Shoddy workmanship was blamed for the problems by 54 per cent of those

Making Moving Easier

Moving day can be stressful enough, but a bit of forethought can go a long way. For example, many people take the opportunity to clear any unwanted junk out of their homes and lives. Charity shops, car boot sales, and friends can be grateful recipients of some items, and hiring a small skip for a couple of weeks (about £80-£120) can be liberating!

Our advice would be to have a clear-out early in the process - ideally before you even put your property on the market. An uncluttered house with tidy cupboards and a clear garage all improve the presentation of yourhome tremendously, thereby increasing its saleability and possibly its price. The reduced volume should also bring down your removal costs. You can bring these down further by considering if there are any bulky pieces of furniture that you are thinking of having restored. For example, your current sofa might not look right in your next home unless it is recovered. So, if you are moving locally, why not ask the upholsterer to collect the sofa a couple of weeks before moving day and deliver it, re-upholstered, to your new one?

Do make sure that you plan where larger items are going in advance. It is easy for the removers to put something like a piano in the right room, but difficult for you to move it elsewhere after they have left. As well as making sure that a piece fits in a certain place, do also find out if the access to that place is easy enough.

Finally, direct the removers to pack things you will need on the day such as children's beds, kitchen and bathroom accessories, clothes, food and work-related items last so they will be the first things to be unloaded at the other end.

Remember - planning is the key to a stress-free for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF)

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

Skipper's loved it

IT has been a tough season for Rye House skipper Edward Kennett – but he's still loved it.

'This season has been so frustrating for myself and trying to get the boys going. It's been hard just trying to score the points and keep the going.

"One minute a rider's going, the other he's not. It's been tough and it has been a struggle but I've enjoyed every minute of it. I feel I've been consistent in that number one spot at home, and even away."

Bowen's bad break - on a coffee table at his home!

LUKE Bowen was already competing with a fractured elbow, but the Rye House Rockets speedway star later revealed to the Star that he had broken his toe the previous day following an altercation with a coffee table!

"My elbow's getting better, but last night I broke my little toe when I hit a coffee table," said Bowen, from Harlow, after the 59-36 loss to Premier League champions elect Edinburgh Monarchs in Hoddesdon on Saturday

Adrenalin junkies leap fire pit in Super Spartan race

A TEAM of adrenalin junkies from the Harlow-based CrossFit Gym braved flaming obstacles in a stamina-sapping 13km Super Spartan' race at Pippingford Park, East

Nearly 30 members of members and friends of CrossFit Raeda scrambled through mud, trawled through water and hauled themselves over obstacles for more than eight miles, culminating in a sprinting fire pit leap on the finishing straight.

CrossFit is perfect for obstacle race training.

As well as the rigorous training members get from their regular CrossFit sessions, the team also had a taster of what to expect from Spartan at an assault course at Hubbards Hall, Churchgate Street. "Coming from a non-runner it was tough," said Nikki Burton, a CrossFit Raeda member. "I don't think any amount of training could have prepared me, especially for all the hills. But CrossFit certainly helped with the upper body obstacles, for Captain so proud as Harlow record joint highest-ever league finish

HARLOW'S season ended with a murmur rather than a bang as they suffered a seven-wicket loss against Shepherd Neame Essex Cricket League division one champions Colchester on Saturday.

However, Rehman Ahmed is justifiably proud of his side's achievements this year.

The Marigolds men have finished fourth, which

The Marigoids men have infished fourth, which equals their highest ever finish.
"Everyone who has appeared for the first team this year has made important contributions," Ahmed said. "Our aim was to solidify our spot in the division with a top half finish, and we have surpassed that.

'To be in the mix of a promotion battle on various occasions shows that we have the ability and the potential to push on for next year, we just need to improve on taking our chances."

Colchester won the toss and chose to bowl. Ahmed Khawaja (59), Imran Qadir (39) and Luke Heskett (30), advanced the score past the 200 mark for a maximum eight points.

The Harlow tail was rapidly mopped up, and Colchester needed 213 for victory. Australian left-hander Julian Russell (61) and fellow opener Kemsley Robb (38) hit powerfully. Only Heskett (2-59) and Tom Ryder (1-57) found any reward as the chase was completed.

"Not clinching key moments has cost us a potential top two finish," added Ahmed. "We will look to strengthen for next season and continue to give opportunities to those who deserve it." It was an unlikely conclusion to the campaign for Harlow twos, who found themselves relegated as soon as they lost the toss against Loughton, as teams are only able to get 20 points for a win batting second.

Loughton only required 10 points for promotion but were given a rude awakening, as Harlow seamer Lewis Aldred tore through the opposition.

He produced a sensational spell of 8-53 and Loughton were dismissed for 149, giving them only two batting points.

Harlow achieved the target for the loss of three wickets, with Lloyd Sykes (31 not out) hitting the last ball of the game for four.
Alan Jones top scored with 51 not out.
Captain Danny Stone said: "Lewis and Alan have been the only constants in a team which has greatly underachieved this season. Lewis finished the season with an impressive 39 wickets and 13-yearold Alan racked up an incredible 624 runs at an

Harlow thirds played the final game of the season at home against Chelmsford knowing that they had already secured the division one title

They batted first and initially struggled, slipping to 65-6 after 20 overs.

The lower order fought back, as Soulat Ali (77), Jack Sykes (67 not out), Dip Basnet (21) and captain Dave Whellams (33) steered the side to 288 all out

Despite a steady start Chelmsford were dismissed for 149, with Amir Farooq finishing with 5-12.
Whellams said: "This has been a highly rewarding season and our second successive championship winning promotion. Harlow IIIs will be playing in the premier league next season for the first time in our history.

Division one champions Harlow fourths drew with hosts Wickford in their last game. Batting first, Harlow amassed 194, with opener

James Coldwell carrying his bat for an unbeaten century, his third of the season. In reply, Wickford fell agonisingly short at 193-9

In reply, Wickford fell agonisingly short at 193-9 and the points were shared.

Conor Monk (2-24) and Callum Sykes (4-43) bowled tightly to force the draw.

"I'm disappointed not to win the game today and finish the season off on a high but we had a very young side out and I was missing five regulars," said skipper Rob Coldwell.

"We've had some great individual performances all season but the secret for our success again this year is playing as a team: heads don't drop and everyone encourages each other. We never give up.

"As with the thirds, it is great to create history for the club in playing premier league next season for the first time

Harlow fifths (203-7: Owen Warwick 84) beat Upminster VII (150).

THICK OF THE

Hawks in late controversy

Harlow Town 1 Thurrock 1 (Ryman League, division one

BY JOSHUA REA LONG

BOSS Danny Chapman slammed his side's profligacy in front of goal as the Hawks were denied a seventh consecutive win in league and cup after a controversial late goal from Thurrock on Tuesday.

The home side appeared to be heading for all three points after skipper James Smith gave them the lead shortly after half-time.

But Town couldn't see the victory through, Charlie Stimson bundling in the Thurrock equaliser in the 88th minute after Harlow keeper Dean Driscoll appeared to be fouled under a floated free-kick into the box. The result left Harlow second in the Ryman division one north.

Chapman said: "We dominated the game. If we had been a bit more clinical with the chances we created we could have been out of sight by the time they scored their goal.

"But as I said to the boys in there ou can't give away as many freekicks as we did in the second half because at some point something is going to give and they're going to

"Fair play to them, they came with a game plan to intimidate us which they did to a certain extent, but the referee got intimidated and that affected his performance."

The Hawks boss threw Robbie Martin straight into action after resigning the player.

Thurrock started well and skipper

Lewis Spence had an effort cleared off the line from a corner.

Shortly after, Smith brilliantly weaved his way through the visiting defence but his shot was well saved by the legs of Thurrock keeper Andy Walker.

However, Town continued to play some impressive football and it was almost rewarded when Alex Read was through but a last-ditch tackle blocked his shot.

From the resulting corner Shane Stamp hit the crossbar with a curling effort as the first half finished up goalless.

Town took the lead just after the restart, Stamp beating his man before squaring to Smith who turned inside and struck a shot into the corner from the edge of the area.

Smith, Stamp and Cowley were causing problems: all had chances to double the lead with Cowley twice denied by Walker.

A crunching tackle from James Goode on Harlow left-back Layne

Eadie could have seen red.

Eadie bravely carried on but is now a doubt as his injury worsened over-

Chapman said: "It was a bad tackle and he should have been sent off.

Harlow weathered a storm and looked as though they would register their fourth home win of the season, until the late controversy.

The Hawks are in FA Cup action on Saturday when they travel to Ryman premier side Grays Athletic in the first qualifying round, with £3,000 prize money available to the victors. HARLOW TN: Driscoll, Glasgow, Eadle, Urquhart, Cuthbert, Simms, Martin, Cowley, Read, Smith, Stamp.

Seconds' final flourish seals championship

HARLOW Town's second team finished the Shepherd Neame Essex Cricket League season unbeaten, and the draw against their nearest rivals secured the division three title. Skipper Jason Gladwin won the toss and chose to bat knowing that batting bonus points would see Town crowned as champions, rather than their opponents Old Southendians & Southchurch.

Wickets fell at regular intervals and Town were reeling at 65-5

Ben Eversden (26) then set about rebuilding the innings but with his dismissal Town were stumbling at 117-8, still 33 runs short of the batting bonus points required to claim the

Mohammed Hassan Ali (14), Conor Fussell (20) and Graeme Eversden (14 not out) made sure the target was reached, ena-bling Town to declare on 153-9 from 52 overs and securing the Hassan Ali (2-29) removed both openers, but it was the introduction of ultra-slow bowler Simon Rowell which mesmerized the middle order, taking the initiative rapidly away from the visitors.

His 15 overs produced another five-wicket haul (6-26).
Rowell has been instrumental in this league campaign, secur-ing an astonishing 55 wickets, including seven five-wicket hauls and a best of 7-45.

Town threw everything at the final pair but they held firm to record a well deserved draw. (123-9).

Skipper Gladwin said: "To finish the season unbeaten is a wonderful achievement beyond all our expectations. We felt we were the best overall side in the league and great credit goes to OS&SCC for pushing us to the wire"

Hutton fourths (242-6 declared) lost to Town's third team (245-8) by two wickets.

The thirds knew a positive result would almost certainly see them promoted and most probably crowned league win-

Harris (46) and Blake (105) helped the hosts declare on 242-

Town lost early wickets in reply, but Passmores Academy head teacher Vic Goddard (61) was a class apart as he rebuilt the innings, firstly with Vinesh Patel (22) and then Kevin Tilleard.

Goddard was dismissed with the score on 131 but the experi-enced Tilleard remained calm and his innings of 88 was crucial. He lofted the final ball of the 48th over for a huge six to win the game with an over to spare.

The hosts provided the Town skipper with a bottle of Champagne to celebrate their victory and title, again proving the spirit of cricket still exists. Town's fourth team suc-cumbed to 80 all out as they lost to champions Billericay fourths (202-3 declared).

Louis Hawes (81) and Martin
Southwell (72) batted superbly for Billericay.
Paul Smith's 38 made the score

a little more respectable.

Read a pen pal as table-toppers win in front of bumper crowd

A FIRST-half penalty from Alex Read maintained Harlow Town's unbeaten start to the season as they beat Soham Town Rangers in front of their biggest gate at The Harlow Arena for some time.

The 1-0 victory, in front of 426, kept the Hawks top of the Ryman League division one

The gate was boosted as it was part of 'Non-League Day', an initiative held on international weekends when there are no Premier League and Championship games.

There was also a falconry display before kick-off as families filled the stadium.

This fixture last season was one Harlow lost, so this was an important win against a side expected to challenge for a play-off spot this Harlow Town 1 Soham Town Rangers 0 (Ryman League, division one north)

Harlow suffered a blow when central defender Dave Kendall went off with a hamstring injury, which will keep him out for two weeks. He was replaced by Luke Cuthbert who had finally gained international clearance after his summer signing after a spell in the USA.

"He [Cuthbert] was excellent. He got an opportunity and he took it. It's up to him to make sure he keeps it," beamed Hawks boss Danny Chapman.

Read kept up his excellent goal scoring form this season by dispatching his spot-kick.

This was awarded after a handball by a Soham player was spotted by the referee after a James Smith cross was floated into the box on 21 minutes.

Chapman was pleased with the win - and the crowd!

"We want to bring more people in. It was really pleasing to get over 400 people there and hopefully some of them will come back.

"We deserved the win. It could have been a few more. Whether you win one-nil or five-nil, winning football matches is a good habit, and that's another win.

Caribbean quest pays off for England starlet Will

ALAN SCOTT

MANY teenagers might go on holiday following their GCSEs for a bit of relaxation.

But for Harlow Athletic Club member and England Athletics U-17 Championship javelin silver medallist Will Marklew, it was the opportunity to head to a Caribbean island to keep up with his training regime to prepare him for the England National Octathlon Championships later this month. Will immersed himself in the local culture in Grenada and experienced the sort of Caribbean style international coaching which has benefitted the likes of Usain Bolt and Yohan Blake in their careers.

Will (16) joined in with training at the local athletic club Saint David's Track Blazers in Grenada and enjoyed one-to-one coaching for up the three hours daily with their top coach Paul Phillip.

The club, which operates from a playing field two minutes from one of the islands most picturesque secluded beaches, has facilities that are in direct contrast to Will's local club, Harlow.

With just a grassy field, often shared with the odd wandering goat or calf, a handful of javelins, a few shots and discus's, a few hurdles and a sandpit, the club manage to turn out international champions who are then snapped up for US College scholarships. The opportunity for Will arose when his father, Adrian, wrote to the Grenada Athletics Association asking for help with finding training facilities to use during their holiday. The association's president Charles George put them in touch with Kwame Hypolite, PR officer for the Grenada Athletics Association, who confirmed that they would be honoured to host the youngster during his visit.

Speaking of the experience, Will said: "I was liant athletes of their own.

"Training for two-three hours daily was a little tough sometimes in the heat, but cooling off in the sea was always waiting at the end of training!

"The standard of coaching was excellent and I have made some lifelong friends. I would love to come back again one day."

Explaining why they were so eager to accommodate Will and his family, and summarising his progress over the few weeks, coach Paul Phillip said: "By nature Grenadians are generous people and so when the request was made we felt compelled to assist, further we knew that our club (St David's Track Blazers) was the only club with active training in the areas identified.

"Upon meeting young William it was clear that he possesses a wealth of talent, and because of his high level of commitment to training he was able to grasp the technical changes shown to him there by allowing him to surpass most of his personal bests.

"Young William has shown that he is able to grow and develop over a short period of time and that he possesses the right mix of abilities and qualities that will thrust him further and we wish him all the best. We expect great things from him in track and field and all he has to remember is that he has to train hard in order to win easy.'

Meanwhile, back in the UK, Director for Coaching at Harlow Athletics Club, Steve Lott has extended the offer for Harlow to return the favour for any of Grenada's travelling athletes in the future.

Will is now back on UK soil and looking forward to representing the South of England at the National Combined Events finals in Lincolnshire, later this month.

Leopards spot on for Leisurezone debut

HARLOW Leisurezone will host its first ever Essex Leopards Basketball Club match on

The England National League division one club will play nine matches next season at the Harlow base, switching games between the Second Avenue venue and its usual home in Brentwood.

Tip-off is 3.15pm when they host a Philippines select team in a pre-season friendly.

Admission prices have been slashed for the Big Cats' first game, and tickets can be ordered in advance at leopardsbasketball.co.uk.

Adults are £4, children £2, with family tickets at £9.50 (two adults, two children) and £11 (two adults, three children). Essex Leopards coach Robert Youngblood has re-signed two key players from last season's Courtney Van Beest, who finished second in the club's MVP (Most Valuable Player) award behind Howard Crawford, returns, and Youngblood is delighted to have snapped up the English guard/forward.

"Re-signing Courtney was one of my highest priorities during the summer," he said. "Although he doesn't often start, he brings us massive energy off the bench and is capable of playing starter's minutes if needed.

"He's one of the best English players in the league and a big part of why we finished second in the "table last year and reached two semifinals"

Seven-foot centre Lawrence Brown also returns for a third season with the Big Cats, and Youngblood is hoping for big things from the 26-year-old.

"When he's playing well, Lawrence can cause real problems for other teams. He needs to be more consistent, but with the import big man I'm hoping to bring in we should be able to dominate inside," he said.

Ambrose Downs and out after 100 miles!

HARLOW Running Club member Steve Ambrose completed the exhausting North Downs Way 100, a 100 mile trail race spread over two days and following the picturesque South Downs countryside starting at Farnham in Surrey and finishing at Wye in Kent. The course was very hilly and had a total climb of 9930ft and an overall elevation change of 20.000ft

Ambrose finished in 96th place out of 110 finishers in an incredible 29hrs, 24mins, 28secs. Meanwhile at the Kent Coastal Marathon, taking in the towns of Broadstairs, Margate and Ramsgate, Gary Godfrey finished in 66th place out of 202 finishers in 3:55.32.

At the Bupa Great North Run Half Marathon Saira Karim finished in 8142nd place out of 41,549 finishers in 1:53.35 in her debut at the distance and she was followed by Andy Ramage 23,804th in 2:22.01.

Serial double header runner Andy Kinney finished Cheltenham Park run 5K in 165th place out of 321 finishers in 27.14, and then the next day completed the Cheltenham Half Marathon in 2335th place out of 2944 finishers in 2:18.33.

At the Gunpowder Parkrun 5K at Waltham Abbey Pushpa Mistry finished in 95th place out

THE Jubilee Trophy, contested between four societies which have been running at Canons Brook Golf Club for 40 years, was staged at the Harlow venue.

The eight-man team event is based on a stableford format.

The eventual winners were the Thorbrook Golf Society, which was established in 1967 by

The scores were Thorbrook 289, Wasps 283, Piemen 262 and Webmen 251.

The winning team consisted of Steve Cox, Peter Overington, Adam O'Connor, Andy Nicol, club captain Alan Grant, Bill Herrett, Mel Cross and Paul Grieves.

Bronze heartbreak for athlete Naomi

NAOMI Harryman suffered heartbreak as she was denied a long jump bronze medal in the Sainsbury's Schools Games in Manchester right at the death.
The 16-year-old Harlow Athletic Club member, pictured below, who was nursing a foot injury, was set to finish third after a leap of metres.

However, the sixth and final leap of Amy leap of Amy Williams was just six centimetres more than Naomi, and so knocked her down to fourth. She can still be proud of her achievement. She was representing the South East region.

Naomi favours the heptathlon, but because this event was not available at these games for young people, she competed in the long jump as she is ranked third in the UK after a stun-ning season which has seen her become the England Schools long jump silver medallist and Eastern Counties U-17 long jump cham-

She has also won the bronze in long jump at an international schools competition.

At Manchester, the long jump was won by Eleanor Broome, who leapt 5.68m.

She has pulled out of the English Schools Championships in Boston, Lincolnshire on September 20 after medical advice. She was due to represent Essex in the heptathlon.

ALL MAKES SERVICING

THE season ended in fantas-tic style for Harlow Town Cricket Club, as Phoenix Park celebrated three promotions and two championships for its teams.

While Ashley Alderson's first team missed out on the title by just 10 points after drawing their match, they still went up to division two. However, the club's second and third string sides took the titles in their respective divisions, crowning a magnifi-cent day for the Elizabeth Way hub.

Club chairman Stuart Alderson beamed: "It's been a fantastic season for the whole club, capped off today with promotions and two league titles.

"We have beaten premier division and division one teams in the league T20 competition, won our first ever game in the National CCC Cup, hosted the Lashings All-stars, won the indoor league established Tornadoes girls team.

"It will be tough to follow that up next year but each year we are progressing, and that progression is absolutely sustainable which is the key for long term success.

"Out of the 22 players in the ones and twos this week no less than 18 of them have come up through our junior section, which speaks vol-umes for the club and proves we have very solid founda-tions and our claim of being a community club is very real

The first team took on Old Southendians & Southchurch knowing a victory would have handed them the title.

However, their rivals also knew victory would secure promotion, so the draw was enough to go up.
Old Southendians batted wrapped up their win in double quick time to secure their own promotion spot, leaving Town and their hosts to slug it out for the remaining place.

At this point either team could still win the league or finish outside the top two, so nerves were frayed for both teams at tea.

Town got off to another solid start against probably the best opening attack in the league of Hill and Rendell, the latter has arguably been the quickest bowler in division three this year.

Pat Yates (11) and Shiraz Ali (47) put on 40 before Pat nicked one behind, bringing Joe Holland to the wicket.
